Founder & Owner

Treasure Valley Farm was founded by the owner, Chris Palomba, in early 2013. After finding a hemp supplement that helped turn his life around, Chris set out to help 5 people a week by personally coaching them towards a healthier lifestyle.

As people all over the world gradually began learning about hemp oil, the demand for products skyrocketed. Chris' daily regimen became a nonstop shuffle of shipping orders and answering phone calls, which needless to say turned his hobby into a new full-time job.

This experience allowed us to build strong relationships with customers, as well as give us the experience and expertise to help educate thousands of people. We now have 15 employees and, in early 2016, cut the ribbon on our 800sq ft laboratory.

Sales Representatives

Our sales team is made up of passionate individuals with extensive knowledge of our products and the hemp industry. Rest assured your calls and emails will always be answered promptly by friendly, knowledgeable hemp professionals.

Chat with our sales team to learn more about our Wholesale, Drop-ship, White Label, and Custom Product Manufacturing services.

Creating YOUR Brand

Typically, to start a new product line you have to invest in research, manufacturing, packaging, and 10,000+ unit minimums.

This is a new (and booming) industry. To help you get your foot in the door, we've made this process as simple and affordable as possible.

1. Flip through our catalog and select which Private Label-ready product(s) you want to order.
2. Design your label (following our detailed PDF instructions), or let us help you find someone to design it.
3. We print your labels for you at no cost! (Unless you choose a packaging type that we do not have a suitable label size to print on; then we'll quote you.)
4. Choose your packaging (i.e. bottle type, color)
5. Place your order. (small MOQ applies)
6. Your order will be placed in our production queue. (lead times vary - avg. 3 weeks)

We manufacture in small batches to ensure you always receive a fresh product. Each product we carry has been 3rd-party lab tested to verify its phytocannabinoid content and check for any impurities. These tests are performed using High Performance Liquid Chromatography and a Microscopic Visual Inspection.

Our lab utilizes properly sourced industrial hemp oil from farms in Europe to produce concentrates, oils, vapes, edibles, and much more.

Our hemp extracts are tested at least twice before they're finally mixed into our oils.

Not everyone's taste buds are the same... and the perfect strength differs from person-to-person. To help ensure our products speak to the variety of customers we serve, we offer several flavor and strength options.
